BISHOP AND THE DELEGATES DEPART

What is Thought of the Late Conference.

POST-CONFERENCE CHANGES

Dr. Judkins Does Not Go to Lynchburg. Great Satisfaction at Appointment of Mr. Bennett-New Pastors

Who Come to Richmond.

With the departure of Bishop W. W. Duncan yesterday afternoon there came to a final conclusion the one hundred and twentleth annual session of the Virginia Conference of the M. E. Church, South, which for the past eight or ten days has been a feature of the life of the community.

Technically, the conference was over

Technically the conference was over and done on Wednesday evening, but there were some post-conference transactions yesterday, as told below. The Rishop left about 4 o'clock in the afternoon for Ashland, where he will visit his nlece, Mrs. R. E. Blackwell, wife of the president of Randolph-Macon Collegs. He will probably leave Ashland very shortly for other points, where he has important engagements. Technically the conference was over shortly for other points, where he has important engagements.

WHAT THEY THINK OF IT.

The deiegates to the conference began leaving early yesterday, and by night few of them were still in the city.

They meet next year in Charlottes-ville. Several of them were seen yesterday morning and asked for impressions of the meeting just over. The majority said they thought the sessions remarkably quiet and harmonious. There were, they said, no acrimonious debates leaving a bitter taste in the mouth. The differences of opinion on the one or two differences of opinion on the one or two big matters which came up should not be taken to indicate that there was any bad feeling. One of the ministers said some of his best friends are those who disagreed with him in the discusdelegates seen declared that they had never seen such a remarkable thing as the onslaught made upon the nominathe onslaught made upon the the onslaught made upon the hotter of thirty years standing said he had never heard of such a thing in his life.

There seems to be general satisfaction with Richmond as a meeting place. The have had every convenience placed at their disposal.

CHANGES MADE YESTERDAY.

During the day yerterday there developed one or two interesting post-conference matters, chief among which was the announcement of three changes in the list of ministerial appointments read out last night.

During the morning the bishop was hard pressed with work, and he expressed himself decidedly to that effect. Between breakfast time and nearly noon pressed himself decidedly to that effect. Between breakfast time and nearly noon he had not a moment at his own disposal. At 9 o'clock he met a committee of laymen from the Memorial Church of Lynchburg, and as a result of this interview one or two changes were made in the appointments announced last night. The Rev. Ernest Stevens was changed from Port Norfolk, where he had been assigned to Memorial, and Dr. W. E. Judkins was changed from that church to Park Place and Oaklette, in Portsmouth District. Mr. Stevens' charge at Port Norfolk was assigned to the Rev. W. T. Merritt, who had originally been given charge of Park Place and Oaklette. and Onklette.

NEW PRESIDING ELDER.

The appointments, so far as they af-fect Richmond, have been received with the greatest degree of satisfaction. The return of the old pastors to the most return of the old pastors to the most prominent charges was what everybody wanted: they were all received with open arms. It was particularly noted with what warmth the congregation of Centenary greeted the return of Dr. W. W. Lear, who, it was said at first, but utterly without foundation, might go to another charge. Dr. Lear can serve two more years at Centenary, and it is the hope of the congregation and of the community at large that he will be allowed to do so.

lowed to do so.

The greatest interest centers around the appointment of the Rev. R. H. Bennett, the able young minister of Epworth. Norfolk, to the presiding eldership of the Richmond District. On all ship of the Richmond District. On all hands the selection is regarded as a source for congratulation and felicitation. 'I e ministers are highly pleased, and the same is the case with the laymen. The rousing appliause when the name of Mr. Bennett was called Wednesday night is a striking testimonial to his negularity, here.

nesday night is a striking testinomal to his popularity here.

When seen yesterday Mr. Bennett said he was not surprised at his appointment to a presiding eldership. He, of course, pretty well knew what was about to happen, but he had no idea of the district over which he would be placed. He was glad to get back to Richmond. Mr. Bennett said floally he was much touch. Bennett said finally he was much touched and gratified at the rousing reception given his name Wednesday night when it was called. He will take up his work here at once, probably coming to Richmond next week.

Mr. Bennett, although a young man, not having yet reached his fortieth year, has filled some very important pulpits. He is a son of the late Rev. Dr. W. W. He is a son of the late Rev. Dr. W. W. Bennett, who was president of Randolph-Macon College, and for years prominent in the Methodist Church. Mr. Bennett comes here from Enworth Church, Norfolk, of which he has had charge since the elevation of Rev. Dr. A. Coke Smith to the Bishopric. He succeeds Rev. J. Powell Garland D. D., who takes charge of the Portsmouth District.

THE PASTOR OF ST. JAMES. Among the pastors in this city there were few changes. Rev. J. D. Langley, who has had charge of St. James Church for a year, was retired at his own request, this place being filled by the appointment of Rev. W. A. Cooper. The members of the church are re joicing over their good fortune in sejoicing over their good fortune in securing Mr. Cooper, who 's regarded as one of the best public speakers in the Conterence. He is a Baltimorean by birth, having been born in the Monumental City December 17, 1866. At the age of fourteen he gave his heart to God and at once began active work in the church. He was educated in the schools of Paltimore, and afterwards schools of Baltimore and afterwards pursued a liberal course in classical and theological studies under the distinguished author and educator, Dr. T. J. Dodd. Ten years of his ministerial life was spent in Kentucky, where he distinguished himself as a speaker. On Appendix 25 1850 he was united in mark Into Permanent Quarterst.

TWO OTHER NEW ONES.

Rev. W. B. Anderson comes to Hask er-Memorial, succeeding Rev. R. I Beadles, who goes to King and Queen. The Rev. R. P. Lumpkin, a fine young tross, comes to Epworth to succeed the Rev. W. F. Davis, who goes to King George, in the Rappahannock District.

At the Theatres.

Grace George, who is to present "Pretty Peggy" at the Academy to-night and to-morrow matinee and night, is being seen in the fifth production she has presented to the public since she became a star under the auspices of William A. Brady. This time the vehicle announced is from the pen of Frances Aymar Matthews, the well known writer of magazine stories, and bears the sonorous title of "Pretty Peggy."

Miss Matthews has dealt therein with the romance between Peg Wolfington and David Garrick, choosing to out adrift both from the novel of Charles Reade and from the play by Tom Taylor. She presents Mistress Peggy as "an impudent-faced irish girl" at the period of her entrance into London Covent Garden and the affections of the redoubtable David. There is no doubt that Miss George is qualified above any other American actress to impersonate Peggy at this age. Miss George herself is of Irish extraction, and adds to that advantage the incalculable one of extreme youth. In the past few years theatre-goers have seen Gillable one of extreme youth. In the past few years theatre-goers have seen Gilborte in "Frou Frou" played by a woman of fifty and Hamlet by another woman nearly sixty, but readers of Fitzgerald Molloy and George Anne Beliamy will be glad that Manager Brady has selected for the part of Peg Woffington an actress still far from the sere and yellow. Miss George is to be supported by Vincent Serrano, Annie Ward Tiffany and a cast of fifty.

The Augustin Daly Musical Company to be seen here in "San Toy" is one of the largest and most complete organizations traveling. There are over sixty-five people employed in the production of the play, which includes an orchestra of trained musicians under the leadership of the famous composer and conductor, John Braham. Among the leading members of the company are Samuel Collins, George K. Fortescue, Hobart Smock, Sarony Lambert, Nagle Barry, Joseph Cauto, Eigie Bowen, Nelle Lynch, Isobel Hall and Norah Lambert. "San Toy" is one of those English musical plays so much in vogue now, but is claimed to be superior in many ways to most of the others, in that it possesses a real comedy element, while being at all times dainty and tuneful.

TWENTY CONVICTS ARE RESENTENCED

Judge Wellford Returns a Score Prisoners to the Penitentiary.

Having been twice convicted and served two terms in the State penitentiary, twenty convicts were yesterday taken before Judge Wellford in the City Circuit Court. All were convicted, and in accordance with the law, sentenced to-serve an additional term of five years.

In only one or two instness did any of the consicts attempt to disprove the charge of having twice violated the laws of the Commonwealth.

They were Melvin White, William Howington, Edward Blow, William Hiers, Fischer Lee, Henry Clements, Edward Hancock, John Hays, Sam Cross, Joseph Johnson, Ell Wikinson, James Follis, George Brown, Harry Wainwright, Phillip Roberts, Tom Pearson, Lenny Johnson and James Booker. They Lenny Johnson and James Booker. They all returned to the pentientiary.

"They must be restraized, though," he said, "if left to grow up like weeds, they will be as worthless,"

And then he discharged a bunch of boys who had been arrested for throwing a window.

"Don't do it again boys," he said.

We won't," said the boys, and they meant it.

For throwing a rock at Connie Cochran, a grown negro named George Shields was assesed $2.50.

It is pleasant news for local playgoers that Mrs. LeMoyne, the distinguished actress, who won large favor in this section two years ago in "The Geratest Thing in the World," is returning to us in a clever play of New York life, "Among Those Present." by Glen MacDonough. Her new production has the stamp of New York approval, coming directly from the Garden Theatre, where its prosperous run was interrupted to make way for the engagement of E. S. Willard. "Among Those Present" is said to be a frank revelation of New York society in its humorous and serious aspects. The role allotted to Mrs. LeMoyne—that of Mrs. Clinton, a leader of fashion—is peculiarly suited to the arctress' charming artistic temperament.

There will be only three more performances of the great hit, "Fiddle-Dee-Dee," at the Bojou, and then this company, which for two years now has proven to be the most popular attraction ever placed in the Bijou, will go on its way, leaving a trail of chuckle behind it. From start to finish this show is a laugh, and so great has been its success that it will probably come here another year.
